The Lehman Memorial M. E. Church, at the corner of Old York road and Lehman avenue, is the oldest church building in the borough, the corner stone of which was laid September 8, 1836, and dedicated May 22, 1837.

The parsonage was built at the expense of Joseph and Deborah Lehman and by them presented to the congregation. The church as it was first completed cost $2700 and the parsonage $2100. Mr. Lehman, for whom the church is named, died November 11, 1845, aged 81 years. The remains of Lehman and his wife lie in a vault in the front church yard.

In 1879 the congregation rebuilt on a Gothic design and about twenty-five years later, enlarged the lecture room in which all church festivities are now held. The building is composed of a large room for church services, a chancel room, lecture or Sunday school room, basement and well equipped kitchen. There is a small cemetery on the grounds with the graves of many who figured largely in the history of this community.

William Krier Goentner, father of the present generation of that well known family, was the first stated pastor of Lehman Memorial M. E. Church.

Rev. William H. Robinson is the present pastor.

OLIVER C. WALLIN

One hundred and five years ago the Borough of Hatboro, that time known as the Crooked Billet, had neither church or Sunday School.

Mrs. Hannah Yerkes, although not a member of any church, but a devout Christian, felt the great need of a religious institution. In 1824 a Sunday School was started with one hundred pupils. Prominent men and women of the neighborhood were enlisted as teachers and the school was opened in Loller Academy.

This school was the nucleus of the Hatboro Baptist Church which was organized in September, 1835, and for four years worshipped in Loller Academy, now the public and high school building. On September 5, 1839 the cornerstone was laid for the church building and was dedicated January 16, 1849. The church grew so rapidly that in 1855, fifteen years after its founding, the building was enlarged to its present size at an expense of upwards of $4000. The structure was greatly improved in 1907 during the regime of Rev. F. C. Colby, one of Hatboro's outstanding citizens and for twenty-five years pastor of the church. The building is beautifully situated about one hundred feet back from the York road, between Moreland and Montgomery avenues, and the walks and the building are shaded by stately maple trees. The church property contains the large church building, parsonage and sexton's house. A beautiful and well kept cemetery is at the rear of the grounds.

Rev. Herbert Agate now holds the pastorate.

P. E. CHURCH OF THE ADVENT*Minister* REV. GEORGE W. LAMB

Morning Services—7:45 and 11 A. M.

J. BROOKE MOSLEY

The Protestant Episcopal Church of the Advent was founded in 1889 and services were held in Odd Fellows Hall. The corner stone of the present building was laid in 1900 and the church was dedicated in 1901 and consecrated in 1904.

The building is situated on Byberry avenue, one of the most beautiful streets in the borough, between York road and Penn Street. Built on a high terrace, the church although small, is one of the most attractive structures in the town.

Rev. George Woodward Lamb is the present rector of the church and is beloved by his congregation and highly respected.

The Church of the Advent Parish House, a model structure of its kind, and one that is already rendering a valuable service to the entire community, was erected in 1929 and was dedicated October 31, of that year.

The parish house is built of native stone exactly matching that in the walls of the church itself, and is an architectural gem. It houses an auditorium seating two hundred persons, an ample stage, stage rooms, class and committee rooms, a woman's meeting room, a modernly equipped kitchen, and basement recreation room. The building is connected to the church proper by a beautiful flagstone-paved cloister dedicated to the memory of Suzanne Hutchinson Fay. In the rear of the cloister is the rector's study. The cost of the parish house was approximately $20,000.

HATBORO SEVENTH-DAY ADVENTIST CHURCH

York Road and County Line

Minister REV. WALTER A. NELSON

Services Saturdays

Sabbath School—9:45 A. M.

Preaching —11:45 A. M.

Seventh-day Adventism had its origin in 1845 when a small body of men and women, less than a dozen, associated themselves together in the formation of this new Christian denomination.

Since that day nearly one and a quarter centuries ago, this sect has more than doubled its members every ten years and widened its scope so that in 1929 it had a record of increasing its missionary activities nearly five hundred per cent in every decade of its history. The Seventh-day Adventist Church is now publishing the gospel in 457 languages and is appropriating $5,000,000 yearly for foreign missions.

In September 1924, the Hatboro Seventh-day Adventist Church School was organized with an enrollment of six children, meeting at the corner of County Line and Old York Road in a house purchased by Mr. Wallace Stevens for that purpose. Mrs. Publicover was the teacher. Members of this denomination being attracted by the opportunity of giving their children Christian education moved nearby and on March 7, 1926 a Church was organized with ten members. Meetings were held in the school room until the increasing membership made it necessary to seek larger quarters.

In 1927 four lots adjoining the school property were purchased and in May, 1929, it was decided to erect a church building. Messrs. Heys, McDonough, Stevens and Caldwell were the committee in charge of the building plans. On July 1 a contract was given to the W. P. Cameron Engineering Company and ground was broken one week later.

July 21, 1929, the corner stone of the Church was laid when Elder Nelson, the pastor, and Elder Conrad, local elder, conducted the ceremony.

On October 26 of the same year the Church was dedicated with Elder Robins of Washington, D. C. preaching the service. On this day the building was crowded to the doors. The afternoon service was in charge of Dr. B. G. Wilkinson, Ph.D., dean of Theology at the Washington Missionary College. The following Sabbath, eleven persons were baptised and admitted to the church bringing the membership up to forty-seven, with sixty-six in the Sabbath School. A Young Peoples Society, a Dorcas Society and a Junior Missionary Society have been organized. Mr. and Mrs. Weaver are the instructors in the Church School which has ten grades, full equipment, and is operating under the supervision of the Board of Education. Prayer meeting is held every Wednesday evening except the first Wednesday of each month which is devoted to a Teacher-Parent meeting.

The new Church building has been appraised at $20,000 but due to the generosity of the Cameron Engineering Company, and Messrs. Faltenbacher and James H. Jackson, subcontractors, the cost was greatly reduced.

The public is invited to worship in this church every Sabbath (Saturday) and Wednesday evening.

THE FAMILY BARBERS

SKETCHES FROM HISTORY

In 1701, James Dawson, an immigrant to this country from London, hewed a path through Penn's woods to a spot sixteen miles north of the village of Philadelphia and here, finding a spot to his liking, cleared a few acres of land, built a log cabin, and settled down to pursue his trade of hatter and farmer.

The site of his homestead was later to become the town of Hatboro, and his forrest path the Old York Road.

In 1705 Dawson erected a permanent home of stone about one hundred and fifty yards south of his cabin which stood upon what is now the corner of Old York Road and West Moreland Avenue. Other pioneers gradually joined Dawson and in the formation of a small village his stone residence was turned into a tavern known as the Crooked Billet. In the meantime a post road had been cut on through to New York and in the late eighteenth century the Crooked Billet was one of the famed overnight stops along this stage route. This building still stands and is owned by the Newton Watson Estate.

Another of Hatboro's oldest buildings is the grist mill on the banks of the Pennypack (a derivation of the Indian name Pemmapecka) Creek, now used as a restaurant. This was erected in 1724. The stone arch bridge carrying the Old York Road over the creek a few feet east of the mill was constructed in 1749.

BATTLE OF CROOKED BILLET

Hatboro was the site of the Battle of Crooked Billet during the Revolutionary War. This battle was fought on May 1, 1778, between colonial troops numbering about four hundred under command of Brigadier General John Lacey, a native of Buckingham Township, and a large number of picked British troops under Lieutenant Colonel Abercrombie and Major Simcoe. In 1861 an imposing monument was erected by the Hatboro Monument Association close by the spot where the American troops were first attacked and during the Sesqui-Centennial Celebration of this battle held on May 5, 1928, another monument was erected in Warminster Township near the spot where many of the American patriots are known to lie buried.

BOROUGH SCHOOLS

Hatboro for nearly two hundred years has been a center of education for the surrounding communities.

In 1730 its first school house was built on what is now Byberry Road at the corner of Warminster Street. This was later abandoned and another one built on the Old York Road near the site of the Crooked Billet Monument. A few years later this frame building was moved about one quarter of a mile west on what is now Monument Avenue. The next school house of record was a stone structure at the corner of Byberry Avenue and Penn Street that was used as such until 1873 when it was converted into a dwelling. Hatboro in its early days had two private schools, a girls' seminary conducted by Rev. George Hand in the building now occupied by the Delbert Carter School, and a boys' academy of which Hugh Morrow was the master.

In 1811 Loller Academy was erected in compliance with the will of Robert Loller, a teacher, surveyor, and colonel in the Continental Army. The Academy was operated as a private school until shortly after the adoption of the public school system in 1836 when it became a combined public and private institution. In 1873, it was converted into an entirely public school and has been used as such ever since. An interesting feature of the Loller Academy is the cupola clock made by the famed Isaiah Lukens.

In 1926 Hatboro's present main high school building was erected at a cost of approximately $100,000 and in 1929 the $25,000 industrial arts building was added.

Hatboro is now equipped with the most modern and efficient school system available with highest class instructors and most up-to-date equipment.

UNION LIBRARY

In 1755 the Union Library was founded, the third of its kind in Pennsylvania and the twelfth in America, at a meeting in the Crooked Billet tavern.

Among the early donors of books are listed Thomas Penn, son of William Penn, and Lady Ferguson, granddaughter of Governor Keith.

The Union Library Company was incorporated May 5, 1787, and its early growth was due largely to the bequest of almost the entire estate of Nathan Holt.

The classic structure facing Old York Road, now housing the library was erected in 1851, and although it has been renovated at times, the original Doric beauty of the structure is still retained.

In 1795 the library had on record 1000 volumes and from this it has grown until today there are over 30,000 books upon its shelves.

INDUSTRIAL ADVANTAGES

Regional Planning experts and economists agree that Hatboro is ideally situated as an industrial center.

Hatboro is close to two of the nations greatest domestic trade centers, New York and Philadelphia, and because of its proximity to the ports of these great cities it is excellently located for export trade.

Transportation facilities are of the best. The boro is on the Old York Road, the shortest route between Philadelphia and New York, the greater portion of which is now concrete, and is the hub of other fine highways radiating in all directions. The Reading Railroad offers good freight service at low rates, and the Trenton Cut-off division of the Pennsylvania passes one half mile south of the town. About a mile from the borough is located the fine Pitcairn Aviation airport and plane factory.

Labor conditions are ideal in Hatboro. The two major industries now located in the town have recruited their employees almost entirely from Hatboro and the surrounding communities, and they have proved a highly satisfactory class of workers. The population is ninety per cent white American, well educated, and unacquainted with union restrictions. There is an almost inexhaustible source of labor within a short commuting distance of Hatboro and the town itself is amply able to care for a great increase in population.

Borough officials and civic organizations are eager to co-operate with industries locating in the town. Taxes are normal, the borough's finances are in excellent condition, assessments are exceedingly low and in the case of new industries, are made as nearly negligible as possible. The price of land, while steadily increasing, is still cheap in comparison with that in Philadelphia and its immediate environs, and there are a number of excellent factory sites still available in the borough.

Hatboro is located on high rolling ground with good natural drainage and a dry healthy climate. There have been no illness epidemics in the board of health records for many years.

Building costs are low in Hatboro. Housing facilities are excellent and there are several land developments within the boro limits offering beautiful home sites at a wide range of prices. The entire town is serviced by electricity, gas and water. The majority of the streets in the town are paved and sidewalks are good.

RESIDENTIAL ADVANTAGES

Home-seekers will find in Hatboro everything to be desired in residential sites.

Really values, while now below normal as is the case the country over, are stable and for the past decade have been marked by a steady upward trend. Houses throughout the town are of the better type, and even the less costly are sturdily built and attractively designed with ample grounds about them.

Opportunities for employment are unexcelled. While nearby cities and communities were experiencing a slump in industrial activities during 1929 Hatboro's industries were operating steadily and practically no employees were laid off. Very low commutation fares to Philadelphia are maintained by railroad, street car and motor coach. Local industries operate on a high wage scale.

Hatboro has a first class educational system with elementary, junior and senior high schools. Manual training is taught in the high school, and students are well equipped to either follow a trade or enter college immediately upon graduation.

Hatboro has four churches of various denominations, a bank, a trust company, three building and loan associations, six fraternal organizations, an active Board of Trade, a Parent-Teacher Association, and five women's organizations.

Excellent entertainment is provided for residents of the borough as they are within fifteen minutes motoring distance of ten high class theatres. Seven country clubs with golf courses are within a few minutes drive. Willow Grove Park, one of the largest amusement parks in the country is two miles away. Three public swimming pools are nearby. The town supports a semi-professional base ball team each summer. A high class bowling and billiard recreation center offers year round indoor sport.

Residents are safe-guarded by one of the finest equipped fire companies in Montgomery County and an alert police force. A vigilant Board of Health guarantees sanitation. An independent company provides pure artesian well water under good pressure.

Numerous stores and shops carrying fresh food stuffs and merchandise in the latest mode and wide variety, make shopping out of the town unnecessary.

The Public Spirit, one of Pennsylvania's foremost weekly newspapers, is the borough's strongest champion and brings to its thousands of readers all the news of the day and the advertisements of the local merchants.

FUTURE DEVELOPMENT

Hatboro was incorporated as a borough in 1871. Since that time the population of the town has been more than tripled, having doubled itself in the past ten years.

Affairs of the borough have been managed economically and while the town has been well developed along all lines, with low taxation, its indebtedness is comparatively small. The current net borough debt is approximately $20,000 and the net school debt about $100,000; less than one per cent. and four per cent. of the assessed valuation of the borough respectively. Hatboro's fire company, maintaining practically new equipment costing close to $25,000 is free of debt.

Two great improvements are assured Hatboro within the next two years which, it is freely predicted, will bring to the town a greater period of development than any in its history.

The New Hope branch of the Reading will be electrified as far north as Hatboro according to announcements by rail road officials. This will mean swifter transportation, more frequent service, lower train fares for residents of Hatboro and will make the community an ideal for Philadelphia commuters. Work is progressing rapidly on this electrification, and borough officials have been assured that electric train service will be commenced by 1932.

Hatboro citizens in 1929 voted their approval of construction of a sanitary sewer system. Surveys have been completed, the election certified by the courts, and the way is cleared for actual work to start on the project as soon as desired. This improvement which will take approximately three years to complete, will cost ultimately about $300,000.

WHY make a swimming pool out of your basement, make it a place for the kiddies to play on a rainy day. Your basement should be and we can make it as dry as your living room.

We are making a specialty of "GUARANTEED WATER PROOFING" with a money back guarantee if we are unable to stop all leakage and give you a perfectly dry cellar or pit.

We can show you some of the worst cellars that have been made perfect and can refer you to people who have had conditions such as you may have, we want you to meet them and get their own opinion.
